DAILY NEWS WARMLY RECEIVED.

"Dakota Bob" Does a Little Advertising Stunt in His Own Unique Style.

THANKS FOR KINDLY EXPRESSIONS.

The wheels began to turn in the Daily News office yesterday on time, 2 o'clock p. m., and the white winged messengers of truth dropped from the cylinders in rapid succession.

Accompanied by E. C. Halliday, a member of the American Federation of Musicians, who played the bass drum, and C. A. Emerson, who rattled the rosewood over the taut kangaroo skin, in one of W. W. Abercrombie's automobiles, this trio beat their way through the streets of Daytona, Seabreeze and Daytona Beach, crying the Daily News, which they sold in numbers.

Mark Isaacs, one of the owners of the Crystal Theatre, bought the first paper, and started the boys on a triumphant tour. They were soon forced to speed back to the News office for a second installment of papers.

The Daily News feels immensely gratified with the warm reception and generous welcome accorded the initial appearance of the daily issue of the season 1908-9.

Now everybody who has the upbuilding of this beautiful sea-side city at heart join heartily in making this the banner season so far experienced.

New Deal at Port au Prince.

Port au Prince, Dec. 2.—Port au Prince has revolted against the government of President Nord Alexis. The people have seized the city, and established a provisional government with General Legitime as temporary president.

BIG FREEZE HEADING THIS WAY.

Weather Department is Threatening the Peninsula With An Old Time Freeze.

PREPARE FOR THE WORST.

The Florida weather man is putting a scare on the peninsula by today's forecast which reads thus: "Clear, colder tonight. Frost as far south as 27th parallel. Probably heavy in northern portion Thursday. Fair and colder in central portion."

It is sincerely hoped that the weather man is raising a false alarm, that the North Pole has not blown down, or anything out of the ordinary transpired. Let the frigid blast pass off to sea and all will be forgiven.

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Hallock and Irving Knowlton of Miller's Place, L. I., arrived Saturday and are comfortably settled for the winter in their home on north Palmetto avenue.

Hankins says:

Atwood's H. M. Powder puts an end to headache promptly by relieving the pressure in the nerves which cause the pain. Made right here since 1884. That proves they are o. k. Price 25 cents.

HANKINS, The Druggist, AT THE PLACE Where Volusia Meets Beach.

"OLIVE DRABS" ARE OUT FOR A PIANO.

Have They Heard from the Daytona High School and Some Others?

A GUESS OR TWO COMING.

The rifle boys held an important meeting last night at the Armory and besides performing the prescribed military maneuvers and transacting some business they talked uniform.

A commission has been issued to Second Lieutenant Elton M. Rich to be First Lieutenant of Company K, Halifax Rifles, with rank from September 11, 1908; promoted, vice Clark promoted (appointed same date).

The boys think they will like the new color and style uniform, the "olive drab," and steps in compliance with conditions necessary to secure it are being taken.

An issue of the olive drab woolen service uniform will be made to each organization of the Florida State Troops about January 1, 1909. This clothing to be furnished without charge to the allotments to the several organizations for clothing. The issue will be based upon the actual enlisted strength of each company and detachment as shown by the quarter ending December 31, 1908; provided that the strength of the organizations as shown by such returns must be substantiated by original descriptive and enlistment cards in the office of the adjutant general. One coat and one breeches for each regularly enlisted soldier upon requisition made upon the new form for requisition for clothing. Before these requisitions are prepared the actual measurements of each soldier should be taken and the sizes of the various articles of his military clothing determined by consulting the tables of sizes published in general order No. 18, current series from general headquarters.

Tragic Stories of Murder.

Omaha, Neb., Dec. 2.—When the trial of Chas. E. Davis, charged with the killing of Dr. Frederick Rustin, was resumed here today a motley crowd of the curious gathered, eager to hear the tragic details of the unfinished stories of physicians. The widow, it is expected will be asked to recite the story of the killing.

President Taft Wins His Regrets at Being Unable to Meet With Them.

(By United Press.)
Pittsburg, Dec. 2.—The American Mining Congress began its sessions today, with delegates representing all sections of the country present. Today's session is taken up with organization and the reports of the various committees.

President Taft was invited and hoped to be present at the congress, but he later decided he could not attend.

Mrs. W. M. Moore's mother, Mrs. Cook, of Baltimore, arrived recently from St. Louis and will spend the winter with Mr. and Mrs. Moore, on Ridgewood avenue.

STILL WANT THAW TO GO TO PITTSBURG

Ex-Governor Stone Says Judge Young Erred in Dismissing the Writ.

(By United Press.)
Philadelphia, Dec. 2.—Ex-Gov. Stone continued his argument to have Harry K. Thaw taken to Pittsburg in order that he might testify in behalf of his own bankruptcy petition when the hearing on appeal was resumed today. Mr. Stone argued that Judge Young erred in dismissing the writ commanding Thaw to go to Pittsburg.

A MEMPHIS GIRL SUING FOR DIVORCE.

Mrs. Faith Donaldson Asking For Divorce.—Old Story, Domestic Trouble.

(By United Press.)
New York, Dec. 2.—Mrs. Faith Donaldson, a most beautiful Southern heiress and a member of New York's smart set, has retained counsel to begin action for absolute divorce.

The young couple has been separated for several months but no divorce proceedings were begun sooner in the hope of a reconciliation.

Mrs. Donaldson is the daughter of A. Willis Hunter, millionaire cotton merchant of Memphis.

A. A. Bunnell was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. McClellan, North Ridgewood avenue, from Thursday until Saturday of last week. Mr. Bunnell was en route to his home at Miami from New York where he had been summoned to appear as a witness for the government in a peonage case being tried in the United States court.

The Piano Contest which, the Daily News, was declared ...

New entries are daily being submitted ...

Interesting plans and features ...

Get it straight. But one piano can come to Daytona; the second piano must go to some one in the county outside the city limits. Is this clear?

Keep on the quiver. The contest will be made Saturday of the entries for the derby stakes, the 5000 music boxes.

It is worthy of especial note to observe in this connection that once a week a coupon, good for 500 votes, may be found in the ad of one of the firms carrying the contest matter. This coupon will be found in Saturday's issue.

The nominations made thus far are as follows.

DAYTONA.
The Halifax Rifles.
High School.
Miss Bessie Bingham.
Eastern Star.

OUTSIDE OF DAYTONA.
Miss Grace Keating, Daytona Beach.
Miss Lois Van Velsah, Daytona Beach.

A nomination blank appears in today's paper and you are invited to clip it out, fill in the name of some one you desire to enter the contest and mail it to this office. Any reputable young man or married lady, or any religious, social or other organization is eligible.

The business houses who joined in the contest will give one vote for each cent in cash paid to them and these votes may be cast for whoever the holder sees fit. The only restriction is that all votes must be cast within seven days. A ballot box will be placed in each business house represented in the contest and the ballots will be gathered and counted daily by the Gazette-News Company and the result of the contest published every day or two.

The contest commenced yesterday and closes March 31. Be sure to get ballots when making a purchase from the following:

THE WINTER SCHEDULE ANNOUNCED

The Florida East Coast Railway Will Run Four Through Trains Each Way.

NEW TIME CARD EFFECTIVE JAN. 1.

According to the advanced schedule of information issued by the Florida East Coast railway of trains which will be operated over its road, effective January 1, 1909, six trains daily will be operated between Jacksonville and St. Augustine, four between Jacksonville and Miami, two between Jacksonville and Knights Key during the coming tourist season.

This year the Seaboard Air Line's Florida Limited and the Atlantic Coast Line's New York and Florida Special, the two handsome tourist trains from the east, are operated from New York to Jacksonville on a twenty-four hour schedule, while the Over Sea Limited, between Jacksonville and Knights Key, will be operated on a schedule, which will make connections at the Key with the Peninsular and Occidental steamers sailing for Havana and arriving there twenty-five hours and ten minutes after leaving Jacksonville.

This means that New York is now fifty-two hours and ten minutes from Havana. It seems almost incredible yet it is an actual fact, made possible by the advanced methods of railroading.

SOUTHBOUND

Train No. 87, known as the Over-Sea Limited, will leave Jacksonville at 3:20 p. m., arriving at Daytona at 7:06 p. m. This train will run to Knights Key, arriving there at 7:30 a. m.

Train No. 99, known as the Key West Express, will also run to Knights Key, arriving there at 3:50 p. m. This train will leave Jacksonville at 9:30 in the evening, arriving at Daytona at 1:37 in the morning.

Train No. 33 will run as far as Miami, arriving there at 10:25 p. m. It will leave Jacksonville at 10:00 a. m., arriving at Daytona at 1:45 p. m.

Train No. 29, the local, will make all stops between Jacksonville and Miami, leaving Jacksonville at 7:30 a. m., arriving at Daytona at 11:40; and arriving at destination at 10:15 p. m.

NORTHBOUND

Train No. 78 will leave Miami at 4:55 a. m., arriving at Daytona 3:01 p. m., arriving Jacksonville 7:30 p. m.

Train No. 74 will leave Miami at 7:15 a. m., arriving at Daytona at 3:14 p. m.; arriving at Jacksonville 7:40 p. m.

Train No. 98 will leave Knights Key at 12:00 m., arriving Daytona 4:19 a. m.; arriving Jacksonville at 8:30 a. m.

Train No. 88 will leave Knights Key at 8 p. m., arriving at Daytona at 8:24 a. m.; arriving at Jacksonville at 12:40 p. m.

A Rather Novel Complaint.

An English traveler once met a companion sitting in a state of the most woeful despair and apparently near the last agonies by the side of one of the mountain lakes of Switzerland. He inquired the cause of his sufferings. "Oh," said the latter, "I was very hot and thirsty and took a large draft of the clear water of the lake and then sat down on this stone to consult my guidebook. To my astonishment, I found that the water of this lake is very poisonous! Oh, I am a gone man; I feel it running all over me. I have only a few minutes to live! Remember me to!"

"Let me see the guidebook," said his friend. Turning to the passage, he found, "L'eau du lac est bien poisonneuse" (The water of this lake abounds in fish).

"Is that the meaning of it?"

"Certainly."

The dying man looked up with a radiant countenance. "What would have become of you," said his friend, "if I had not met you?"

"I should have died of imperfect knowledge of the French language."

Arrangements have also been perfected for the dispatch of large army to Montenegro, via the Adriatic.

MMES. LABIA AND TETRAZZINI, NOTED PRIMA DONNAS.

In Mmes. Labia and Tetrizzini the Manhattan Opera House, New York, commands the services of two of the greatest prima donnas living. Mme. Labia upon the occasion of her recent American debut was heralded as the greatest dramatic soprano in the world. Her reception so far seems to justify this statement, to some extent at least. Mme. Tetrizzini has lost none of her popularity. She is greeted by a most enthusiastic audience at every appearance, and she declares she would rather sing to Americans than any people she ever has appeared before.

PIANO CONTEST

THIS COUPON when properly filled out constitutes Miss or Mrs. Address

Send this Blank to The Gazette News Company.

On the day of the admission of M. Rostand to the French academy the author of "Cyrano" and "L'Aiglon" gave a breakfast to a few of his friends, the guests of honor being Mme. Bernhardt. The actress was dressed in a handsome gown, which had been made expressly for the occasion. At the end of the breakfast she arose and in an impressive manner took a glass, held it high and said, "I drink to the greatest of French dramatists, M. Rostand, and I drink after the Greek manner." She then poured the contents of her glass over her head and gown.

Two of Rostand's small sons were sitting at a side table wearing new velvet suits, also made for the occasion. In the silence which followed Bernhardt's dramatic tribute the elder of the boys arose and, imitating her manner, said, "I drink to the greatest of poets, my papa, and I also drink in the Greek fashion!" and straightway deluged himself and his small brother with the contents of his glass.

A Scene Not in a Play.

An extraordinary scene took place in the "Fricas" theater, London, on the night of the first production of Charles Reade's great play, "Never Too Late to Mend," Oct. 4, 1905. During the prison scene a large quantity of water was thrown over Miss Moore, who took the part of Josephine, the character done to death by the warders. One of the critics, Mr. Tomlin of the Morning Advertiser, rose from his seat and publicly protested against the unnecessary cruelty. This aroused almost a riot among the audience, and the action of the play was stopped for some considerable time. Fuel was added to the fire by George Vining, the lessee of the theater, who was playing the part of Tom Robinson and who made a most imprudent speech, in which he practically insulted every critic present, with the result that the theater was left severely alone by the press for many months. The play, however, turned out to be a popular success and had, for those days, the phenomenal run of 140 performances.

A Chinese Story.

A Chinese barber while shaving a customer's head drew blood and put one of his fingers on the place. Again he made a cut and put down another finger, and so on until he had no more fingers free. "Ah," said he as he paused in his work, "a barber's trade is difficult. We ought to have a thousand fingers!"—Scrap Book.

Apt Pupil.

"Didn't I see the grocer's boy kiss you this morning, Martha?"

"Yes'm. But he ain't to blame, ma'am. 'Twas the ice man set him the bad example."

At the same moment you will see bottles in all stages of growth—some glittering gold, others cooling down to orange or red, some in the forms of plumpets or dashing pearls, others as incandescent bosses threatening to become fragile bubbles. It is all as charming as a pyrotechnic display. You will see the black blowpipe twirled round, blown down, held up like a gun barrel, then in the form of an incandescent lamp globe turned round on a becwaxed cast iron implement called a marler, on whose edge the bottle neck is formed. It is held up once more, blown into, then shut up in a cast iron mold placed at the operator's feet somewhat below the level of the ground. This mold is opened and closed by a wire spring, which the operator presses with his feet, and directly the red hot bottle is inclosed he blows down the pipe once more so as to fill it completely.

A man goes round from mold to mold inserting a rod into the neck of each bottle and collecting a trayful to go to the annealing chamber. Here the bottles are stacked up for a gradual cooling process, which may possibly last thirty-six hours. This gives them the desired strength. The annealing process is a cure for their natural fragility and enables them to stand the test of boiling water.—London Globe.

H. L. Pierce and family returned to Mulberry, Fla., Monday, but expects to be back in Daytona the latter part of the week and occupy the Palmer house on Ridgewood avenue during the winter.

The numerous friends of Mrs. Elizabeth P. Hasty, of Ponce Park, will be glad to learn that she is improving, if only slowly, from her recent illness.

C. O. Chamberlin, proprietor of the Palmetto House, was among the arrivals Monday afternoon. A hearty welcome always awaits Mr. Chamberlin at Daytona.

With such delightful weather as this prevailing, balmy breezes fresh from the bosom of the deep, everybody ought to be happy and making progress along every line.

Leon Despland made his first shipment of lettuce north for this season last Friday, consisting of two light consignments to New York firms, following it with a large shipment today.

Mr. and Mrs. James F. Johnson of Springfield, Ohio, are spending the winter with Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Herman, on Volusia avenue. Mrs. Johnson is Mrs. Herman's sister and has come south for the benefit of her health.

Rev. J. B. Harris, who has been holding revival meetings at Daytona Beach, left Monday for St. Augustine. We are informed that Mr. Harris will return to Daytona about Jan. 5th, to hold a series of meetings at the First M. E. church.

T. A. Snider, the Catsup King, and Ben B. Dale, enroute from Cincinnati to points on the lower East Coast, were Daytona visitors Sunday afternoon, stopping over between trains for a brief visit with friends in this city. Mr. Dale is a prominent Cincinnati lawyer.

Commodore J. H. Allen was a Daytona visitor Monday, en route from attendance on the races at Savannah to his place on the Haulover. The Commodore is evidently looking for a regular "monkey and parrot time" at Allenhurst, as he was taking with him a small monkey to be a companion to a very fine parrot, already at home at Allenhurst.
